Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, filed October 6, 2005 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, the indicated allowability of claims 2- is withdrawn and a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Cooper in view of Farjh.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 2, 4, 6, 8, 12, 14, 18 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cooper (US 5,499,246) in view of Farjh et al. (US 5,341,401).

1. Regarding claims 2, 4, 6, 8, 12, 14, 18 and 21, Cooper discloses receiver (fig. 1) for receiving a time slot including a training sequence that indicates stealing (fig. 4, steal flags and training sequence). Stealing flags in the time slot indicate whether signaling, traffic or both are present (col. 1, lines 38-45; note: two signaling flag bits indicate whether a block of even and/or odd bits is signaling). Decoding according to stealing takes place if stealing is indicated (col. 5, lines 50-53). However, Cooper does not disclose that channel decoding a second block when channel decoding fails and interpreting channel decoding for both blocks failing that the time slot comprises traffic data. Farjh discloses decoding channel blocks according to stealing (fig. 7, step 1), and when the decoding fails determining that traffic data is present (fig. 7, steps 7-9; col. 5, lines 60-65; col. 6, lines 27-35). The receiver is part of a mobile unit (fig. 2, item 5). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to decode two blocks of data to determine if traffic is present in the invention of Cooper in order to reduce the probability of having a decoding error (Farjh, col. 2, lines 14-18; col. 6, lines 41-46).

Claims 17 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cooper in view of Farjh, as applied to claims 6 or 12 above, in further view of Kay et al. (US 5,299,198).

- 2. Regarding claim 17, 20, Cooper in view of Farjh does not disclose a base station for decoding a FACCH. Kay discloses a mobile station transmitting a FACCH (col. 13, lines 44-45). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was
- made to have an upstream FAACH for decoding by a base station in the invention of Cooper in view of Farjh in order to provide fast signaling for a mobile station (Kay, col. 13, lines 38-39).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 7, 13 and 19 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion
